

Bob Strauss 5:00 Pace Leader

Running became a part of my lifestyle during my school years but I didn't run a marathon until I was in my '50s. I quickly caught the marathon bug and have completed one or more marathons in every state. I am always eager to share the fun of running and love to keep my pace team entertained as the miles pass by. My pace teams always have a good time. My passion even affected my wife who runs 20-30 races each year. Though I no longer have Boston qualifier times, I do enjoy sharing tips. I love helping others achieve their goals and getting them to the finish line on time. When not pacing you can find me busy vegetable gardening and providing consulting services to Chicago area small businesses.
